WebCam Monitor Review: WebCam Monitor is an excellent webcam recording and monitoring software that supports multiple devices. It includes an intuitive interface and handy configuration settings. Monitoring can be enabled on motion detection or at regular time interval. For the first option you can adjust the motion sensitivity level and ask WebCam Monitor to highlight motion movements or the camera preview window border in red color. Aside from recording a video to file with low, medium, high or very high quality (WMV format), you can take screenshots at a specific time range, configure email notification settings and include messages, upload media files via FTP, activate audio alarms (only preset sounds), as well as trigger a program to launch (script or EXE file). In addition,

Keymacro is a handy program that provides the ability to use hotkeys to control your system. With it, you can assign a key combination to almost anything, including anything you can normally control via keyboard, mouse or file manager, as well as things like a keyboard layout, send a text message, execute a shell script, create a shortcut or edit a setting in Windows Registry. You can set various hotkeys and buttons and create a sequence of actions to quickly control your computer. You can assign more than one keyboard hotkey or button to the same action. Keymacro has a nice user interface with a neat main window displaying all available hotkeys and buttons along with some tool tips. The menu structure can be changed from simple to advanced. In addition, it includes a configuration utility for quick loading or unloading hotkeys or buttons. This is a handy tool that will help users who are new to the program. KEYMACRO also supports a variety of languages, including English, German, Spanish, French, Brazilian Portuguese, Polish, and Turkish, and you can set a hotkey or button for multiple languages. You can create hotkeys or buttons for each language and assign different key codes to each. The program supports both mouse and keyboard for actions and as such it can be used with both. It can also work with external tools like WinSCP and WinSCP Lite. The program is not difficult to use, even if you are not a programmer. It's a matter of finding the right hotkeys and key combination, and using the menus. The program is also capable of handling multiple windows. KEYMACRO does not cost any money, it comes as a free download, with the latest version having fewer bugs and being more user-friendly. Watch The World's Worst Beach published:20 Jul 2014 views:343624 The Algarve in Portugal has a bad reputation for windsurfing in the summer, I just want to talk about the Algarve during the winter to get over the wave of crap info. Like you I caught some windsurfing schools smell in this place but if you have some windsurfing experience and no problem with wind direction it's just the best place to learn windsurfing. Algarve, Portugal High tide on the southern coast of Spain is dangerous. Usually, the highest waves appear at the moment when the tide is changing. This is because the waters are prevented from draining. In early May, 2012, Alboran Sea in the south coast of Spain received a lot of rain, and the waters rose rapidly. And the highest waves were observed, especially in Cape Rodona and Cerb de Nóbrega (about 240 km south of the Algarve). The weather was constantly rainy,
