rkellyloveletterzip: Hi everyone. Today I want to talk about how I develop my personal brand. In fact, this is a very important point in business. What started it all. On the Internet, I found an interesting group, there are a lot of girls and guys who wanted to develop their personal brand. As you remember from my first post, I also really wanted to, but since I was not subscribed to those people, I did not know what to do. And then I was advised to take a free personal brand training.

A: As the code snippet you've provided is already too long for a comment, I'm just going to provide a solution. The main problem is that there are invalid URIs. "rtmp://rkellyloveletterzipdownload.cached.nomx.net/live/livestream/Shootingcats" should be: "rtmp://rkellyloveletterzipdownload.cached.nomx.net:1935/live/livestream/Shootingcats" The two values are separated by a ":" (colon). This results in a highly undocumented and unsupported feature (as far as we know). It looks like.cached.nomx.net has special meaning for MediaPlayerConnectivity:MediaPlayerConnectivity.connectToDevice. More importantly though, this is not supported in any way by any standard Android MediaPlayer API, by any way! I don't understand why your.nomx.net URIs are there (but this doesn't matter too much, I guess), but even if they were valid, they wouldn't work anyway - as MediaPlayerConnectivity doesn't support this feature. So I suggest that you could try the following. Make sure that your.nomx.net URIs are valid - they should be. I also suggest that you try to create a simple HelloWorld. I use the following code (which doesn't contain any MediaPlayer stuff whatsoever, but we can add it later): public class MainActivity extends Activity { @Override protected void onCreate(Bundle savedInstanceState) { super.onCreate(savedInstanceState); setContentView(R.layout.activity_main); String url = ""; String html = null; try { html = getPage(url); } catch (IOException e) { e.printStackTrace(); } c6a93da74d
